NOTICE TO THE TRADE. The only edition of Young's Analytical Concordance hereafter to be printed in America will be the authorized edition, printed from the original latest revised plates. These have been sent us by Dr. Young from Edinburgh. The reprint plates, which did Dr. Young, as an author, so great injustice, are now in Dr. Young's possession. The price was reduced to $2.50, cloth, for the sole purpose of driving out of the American market these imperfect plates. This object having been accomplished, the price will be advanced so as to allow the author a reasonable profit. These advance prices are about one half the prices at which the work is sold in England. There will be no change in the subsequent edition.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

OUR CHRISTMAS IN A PALACE. By EDWARD EVERETT HALE. This is a new Christmas Story. A party who become snowbound in the Rocky Mountains spend their Christmas in a palace car. We bespeak for the readers of this book a most enjoyable feast. 12mo, about 300 pages, cloth, $1. Ready November 1.

A POPULAR LIFE OF MARTIN LUTHER. Based upon Köstlin's Life of Luther, as prepared by Prof. Rein, of Eisenach. Translated and edited by G. F. BEHRINGER. The 400th anniversary of Luther's birth is exciting a world-wide interest. As a historical character alone his life is worthy of study. This volume retains all that is valuable and interesting in Köstlin's extensive work, omitting abstruse and technical points. The interest in this book never flags. 12mo, about 288 pages, cloth, $1. Ready November 2.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

PUBLISH THIS DAY

TWO VOLUMES OF

A New Collection of English Poetry.

ENGLISH VERSE.

EDITED BY W. J. LINTON AND R. H. STODDARD. A series of five small volumes, 12mo, about 350 pp. each. Price, One Dollar.

- I. CHAUCER TO BURNS. Now Ready.
- II. LYRICS OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY. Now Ready.
- III. BALLADS AND ROMANCES.
- IV. DRAMATIC SCENES AND CHARACTERS. } In November.
- V. TRANSLATIONS.

The volumes will be sold separately or in sets.

This Collection is the largest yet undertaken, and covers more fully than any other the whole field of English poetical literature. At the same time its form is the most convenient possible, the five volumes of handy size greatly surpassing in this respect a single heavy book.

As the work was directly suggested by the defects of the existing anthologies, it has especially sought to repair these in two respects :

COMPREHENSIVENESS.—Notable omissions of the present collections have been supplied, and no portion of the field of English Poetry has been neglected, while at the same time all the unquestioned and familiar masterpieces common to the older collections are retained.

ABSOLUTE ACCURACY OF TEXT.—No poem has been admitted without the most careful search through the various editions of the author, and the most thorough comparison of critical comments. Upon this point special stress is laid ; it being the aim of the editors to produce a cyclopædia of English verse the text of which shall be an authority. Besides the fact that the work is the result of many years' general collection, comparison, and criticism, Mr. Linton has devoted the last year entirely to minute study and verification in the British Museum.

Each volume will contain, as an introduction, an essay by Mr. Stoddard on the period or class of English Poetry which it covers. The introduction to the first volume also treats of English Poetry before Chaucer.

The poems of each author are grouped under his name, and at the end of each volume are very brief biographical and bibliographical notes by the editors upon the poets represented in it. Brief glossarial and explanatory notes are also appended, with others noticing current differences of texts, etc.

NOTES IN SEASON.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co. have just ready "Banned and Blessed," by E. Werner, translated by Mrs. A. L. Wister. This is considered to be one of the author's best works and will undoubtedly meet with great success.

BANGS & Co. announce that the Fall Parcel Sale of English and American books, stationery, etc., will take place on November 12 at their rooms, 739 and 741 Broadway. Invoices must reach the auctioneers by the 22d inst, at which time the catalogue will go to press.

P. BLAKISTON, SON & Co., Philadelphia, have in preparation a "Text-Book of Organic Chemistry," by Victor von Richter, of the University of Breslau, translated from the fourth German edition by authority, and to be issued in uniform style with the "Text-Book of Inorganic Chemistry," just published.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS publish this week the first two volumes of "English Verse," edited by W. J. Linton and R. H. Stoddard, fully described in our Fall Announcement number; "The Doctrine of Sacred Scripture," a critical, historical, and dogmatic inquiry into the origin and nature of the Old and New Testaments, by Prof. George T. Ladd; Dr. S. Wells Williams' great work on "The Middle Kingdom;" and the new edition of Prof. H. M. Baird's "Rise of the Huguenots of France."

D. APPLETON & Co. have just ready the third volume of the new revised edition of Bancroft's "History of the United States;" "A New Natural History Reader, for School and Home," compiled and arranged by James Johonnot; and a new, revised, and enlarged edition of Dr. R. Bartholow's "Treatise on Materia Medica and Therapeutics," adapted to the new Pharmacopœia. They will publish next week "Belinda," a new novel by Rhoda Broughton, which has been running serially in The Continent.

ROBERTS BROS. have published in their Famous Women series "Margaret Fuller," by Julia Ward Howe. Mrs. Howe is said to have made a very readable volume and to have displayed commendable discrimination in giving to the public this valuable and candid estimate of one of the foremost writers of the past. They have also just ready the volume entitled "Anti-Tobacco," by A. A. Livermore and others, an energetic crusade against the use of tobacco in all forms. In the new Classic series they will issue at once Southey's "Life of Nelson," with illustrations by Birket Foster, and Maria Edgeworth's renowned "Classic Tales," which will include a biographical sketch by Grace A. Oliver.

JAMES R. OSGOOD & Co. have just ready their new and handsomely illustrated holiday book, "The Princess," by Alfred Tennyson. The volume contains one hundred and twenty new and beautiful woodcuts by some of the best American artists, engraved under the general supervision of A. V. S. Anthony, of Boston. The poem abounds in the most picturesque and attractive subjects for illustration, and the general excellence and skill evinced by the artists and engravers in its production places it among the finest gift-books of the year. They have also just published "A Woman of Honor," a piquant novel of American society, full of new and interesting situations, and a close study of life in the metropolis, by H. C. Bunner, well known through his connection with Puck and The Century. "Fortune's Fool," a novel by Julian Hawthorne, which is described as "a work of great power, destined to be ranked as a classic;" "The Recollections of a Drummer-Boy," by Rev. Harry M. Keifer, late of the 150th Penn. Vols., a vivid and impressive picture of scenes and adventures during the late rebellion told as only an eye-witness could tell them; and "A Year of Sunshine," by Kate Sanborn, a volume of choice and cheering selections for every day of the year, destined to bring "sunshine" wherever it appears, and to drive away the "blues" and all gloomy forebodings. This latter work was formerly published as a Calendar. It is now put into book-form, with spacious margins for amateur decorations and memoranda.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William. Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (2mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); TL. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights. Where figure instead of letter symbols are used, the record is from publisher's designation, and not measurement.

Alabama. Reports of cases argued and determined in the Supreme Court of Alabama, during the Dec. terms, 1880-1, by J: W. Shepherd and J: P. Tillman. V. 68 [Ala. rep.] Montgomery, Joel White, 1883. 7+714 p. O. shp., $6.50.

Alexander, Mrs. [pseud. for Mrs. A. F. Hector]. The executor: a novel. N. Y., H: Holt & Co., 1883. 2+553 p. S. (Leisure hour ser., no. 155.) cl., $1.—Same (Leisure moment ser., no. 22.) pap., 25 c.

One of Mrs. Alexander's charming stories of English middle class life; told with ample details and with the aid of much bright conversation. A new character in fiction is introduced in the person of the executor, Hormuz Kharapet, a Christianiz d Syrian, with a handsome person and fascinating manners. He desires to marry his ward, whose heir he is, and to whom he bears the relation of a step-uncle, for her fortune, and on her refusal of his hand, attempts to poison her in first-class Oriental style. His plans are frustrated by a young English doctor who suspects his game and runs away with the heroine. The character sketching is excellent throughout.

American (The) reports, containing all decisions of general interest decided in the courts of last resort of the several states; with notes and references by Irving Browne. V. 43 [1881-1883]. Albany, J: D. Parsons, Jr., 1883. 38+850 p. O. shp., $6.

American (The) decisions, containing the cases of general value and authority decided in the courts of the several states from the earliest issue of the state reports to 1869; compiled and annotated by A. C. Freeman. V. 46 [1845-'48]. San Francisco, A. L. Bancroft & Co., 1883. 415-808 p. O. shp., $6.

Arizona. Laws of the Territory of Arizona, 12th legislative assembly; also, memorials and resolutions [1883]. Prescott, Arizona Miner Office, 1883. 9+311 p. O. hf. shp., $3.25.

Aunt Rose and her nieces. N. Y., American Tract Soc., [1883]. 32 p. il. T. (Popular series.) bds., 15 c.

Baldwin, J. The story of Roland. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1883. 16+415 p. il. D. cl., $2.

The imaginary nephew of Charlemagne has always been one of the most interesting characters in the romances of the middle ages. Mr. Baldwin has compiled the incidents of his tale from the poets of five centuries, sometimes almost quoting his authorities, sometimes giving full play to his modern imagination. The result is a fascinating story of heroic deeds, that will find hearty favor among adventure-loving boys. The book is quite free from every objectionable feature.

Bardeen, C. W. Verbal pitfalls: a manual of 1500 words commonly misused; with 3000 references and quotations and the ruling of the dictionaries. Syracuse, N. Y., C. W. Bardeen, 1883. 223 p. S. (School Bulletin publications.) cl., 75 c.

Arranged alphabetically; includes all words, the use of which, in any sense, has been questioned by Dean Alford, G. W. Moon, Fitz-Edward Hall, Trench, W. C. Hodgson, W. L. Blackley, G. F. Graham, Richard Grant White, M. Schele de Vere, William Matthews, Alfred Ayres, and others.

Berthelot, M. P. E. Explosive materials: series of lectures delivered before the College de France, Paris; to which is added a short historical sketch of gunpowder, tr. from the German of Karl Braun, by J: P. Wisser, and a bibliography of works on explosives. N. Y., D. Van Nostrand, 1883. T. (Van Nostrand's sci. ser., no. 70.) bds., 50 c.

Bible. International revision commentary on the New Testament, based upon the revised version of 1881 by English and American scholars and members of the revision committee, ed. by Philip Schaff, D.D. V. 4: The Gospel according to John, explained by W: Milligan, D.D. and W: F. Moulton, D.D. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1883. 43+443 p. S. cl., $1.25.

This commentary on the gospel of John is the result of long-continued, careful, independent, and reverential study. The authors were among the most active and influential members of the New Testament revision company, and helped to make the authoritative changes of reading and rendering in the Jerusalem chamber, which are here explained and vindicated.

Biddle, C: Autobiography of Charles Biddle, Vice-President of the Supreme Executive Council of Penn., 1745-1821. (Privately printed.) Phil., E. Claxton & Co., 1883. 12+423 p. O. cl., net, $3.

The Biddle family is an old Phila. family that has figured in the annals of Pennsylvania for many generations. It has been especially distinguished for its services in the navy. The manuscript from which this work was printed is in the hands of Judge Craig Biddle, and has been a source of great pleasure to the immediate descendants of the writer. The public generally will also find it of special interest, as it is a valuable contribution to the American literature of the revolutionary period. Mr. Biddle entered the navy at an early age, and not only witnessed the revolution but the war of 1812 likewise. Out of the many amusing and serious reminiscences, of both a personal and historical nature, those relating to Aaron Burr and his duel with Alexander Hamilton are the most important, as Mr. Biddle remained a friend to Burr to the very end. Letters from Burr, Wilkinson, and Truxton are appended that have never before appeared in print. The work appears just as it was written, with no attempt at embellishment. Its style is natural, simple, and easy.

Bishop, W: H: Old Mexico and her lost provinces: a journey in Mexico, Southern California, and Arizona by way of Cuba. N. Y., Harper, 1883. 10+509 p. il. D. cl., $2.

The talented author of "The house of a merchant prince" has produced an unique volume of travels. Nothing seems to have escaped his acute observation. He describes the people, the country, its scenery, customs, ruins, its many picturesque and beautiful buildings, and its present condition politically, in a most fascinating and thorough manner. The book is the result of a recent journey made by Mr. Bishop through Mexico and her ancient provinces, during which he made the many beautiful sketches with which the volume is illustrated. In view of the new interest awakened for Mexico, this book ought to meet with a hearty welcome. The papers of which it is made up (with the il.) were first published in Harper's Magazine.

Box, T: Practical treatise on the strength of materials, including their elasticity and resistance to impact. N. Y., E. & F. N. Spon, 1883. 525 p., 27 pl., O. cl., $7.25.

Boyd, E. W., comp. English cathedrals: their architecture, symbolism, and history. N. Y.,

* In this list, the titles generally are verbatim transcriptions (according to the rule of the American Library Association) from books received. Books not received are indicated by a prefixed asterisk, and this office cannot be held responsible for the correctness of their record. This list will be reprinted, verbatim, with all the notices of the books received, in the TRADE LIST ANNUAL.

T. Whittaker, 1884, [1883]. 63 p. il. sq. T. bds., 60 c.

A short account of the history, styles, and traditions of the English cathedrals; preceded by a glossary of terms which affords definitions and explanations of the symbolism of the various parts.

Braddon, Miss M. E. [now Mrs. J. Maxwell]. Phantom fortune: a novel. N. Y., Harper, 1883. 96 p. Q. (Harper's Franklin sq. lib., no. 336.) pap., 20 c.

A powerfully written society novel of the present day. The characters are well drawn and well used in working out a plot of much intricacy, dealing with a well-kept family secret.

*Briggs, H: Steam-heating: an exposition of the American practice of warming buildings by steam. N. Y., D. Van Nostrand, 1883. T. (Van Nostrand's sci. ser., no. 68.) bds., 50 c.

Bunner, H. C. A woman of honor. Bost., James R. Osgood & Co., 1883. 4+336 p. S. cl., $1.25.

A somewhat dramatic story of domestic infelicities; scene laid in New York City. The hero is an artist, and there is some good talk introduced about art. The opening scene is a good description of one of the reception-days of the 10th Street studios. Mr. Bunner is connected with Puck and the Century Magazine.

Bunyan, J: The pilgrim's progress, from this world to that which is to come; delivered under the similitude of a dream. N. Y., American Tract Soc., [1883]. 3-262 p. il. T. (Popular ser.) bds., 25 c.

*Burroughs, W. H. Supplement to a treatise on the law of taxation, as imposed by the states and their municipalities or other subdivisions, and as exercised by the government of the United States, particularly in the customs and internal revenue; being a digest of cases decided between August, 1877, and January 1, 1883. N. Y., Baker, Voorhis & Co., 1883. 26+126 p. O. shp., $2.50.

Butler, C. M., D.D. The reformation in Sweden; its rise, progress and crisis, and its triumph under Charles IX. N. Y., A. D. F. Randolph & Co., [1883]. 4+259 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Traces the history of Sweden from the treaty of Calmar in 1398, by which Denmark, Sweden, and Norway were united under Queen Margaret, down through the reign of Charles IX., 1611. The Congregationalist says: "Our Baptist friends will hardly assent to what he [the author] says of the hindrance to the reformation by Anabaptist extravagances. On the whole, the work is fair, discriminating and readable."

Cicero, Marcus Tullius. De officiis; tr. with an introduction and notes, by Andrew P. Peabody. Bost., Little, Brown & Co., 1883. 24+254 p. D. cl., $1.25.

"This treatise," Mr. Peabody says, in his introduction, "may be regarded as an exposition of the ethical system of the stories of Cicero's time, yet with a special limitation, purpose, and adaptation." He has not attempted to give a word-for-word version of the Latin text, but a literal transcript in English of what he supposes that Cicero meant to write in his own tongue.

*Clark, E. C. Practical jurisprudence: a comment on Austin. N. Y., Macmillan, 1883. 12+404 p. D. cl., net, $2.50.

Cooke, Frances E. Story of Theodore Parker; with an introduction by Grace A. Oliver. Bost., Cupples, Upham & Co., 1883. 52+7-115 p. D. (Lives of the great and good, ed. by Grace A. Oliver.) cl., $1.

A simple account for young people, of the events of Theodore Parker's life. Supplemented by an introduction of more than fifty pages by Grace Oliver, giving a résumé of the various lives that have been written of this great leader and preacher, with many appreciative extracts. The first volume of a new biographical series for the young.

*Davis, C. H. S., M.D. A manual for the training and education of the feeble-minded, imbecile and idiotic. N. Y., E. Steiger & Co., 1883. 25 c.

*Davis, C. H. S., M.D. The voice as a musical instrument; with medical hints as to its proper training and culture. Bost., Oliver Ditson & Co., 1883. 40 c.

Dictionary of quotations from English and American poets, based upon Bohn's edition, rev., corr. and enl.; twelve hundred quotations added from American authors. N. Y., T. Y. Crowell & Co., [1883]. 8+761 p. O. cl., $2.50.

In a brief introductory Mr. R. M. Stoddard says this dictionary "ought to be the best that has yet been compiled, partly because it is the latest, and partly because it covers more ground and embraces more poets than any other." It is based upon the latest edition of Bohn's "Dictionary of poetical quotations," and is grouped under subjects. Many improvements have been made in arrangement, such as adding cross-references, numbering quotations, etc. The quotations have all been verified, and the work completed by a concordance index and an index of authors, giving place of birth, and dates of birth and death.

Dodge, Theodore Ayrault. A bird's-eye view of our Civil War. Bost., James R. Osgood & Co., 1883. 10+346 p., maps and charts, O. cl., $3.

Condensed account of the events of the late war from its inception to its close, by the author of "The campaign of Chancellorsville." For the general reader or non-military student.

*Du Moncel, Count Theodore. Elements of construction for electro-magnets; from the French by C. J. Wharton. N. Y., E. & F. N. Spon, 1883. O. cl., 75 c.

Eggleston, E. The Hoosier schoolboy. N. Y., C. Scribner's Sons, 1883. 2+181 p. il. D. cl., $1.

Schoolboy-life in the early pioneer days of Ohio is the subject of this interesting boys' book. Mr. Eggleston has already made us familiar with the locality of his story—the Western reserve—in his "Hoosier schoolmaster" and "Roxy." His hero is a manly little fellow, who overcomes the many obstacles teachers and playfellows place in his way in his efforts to gain an education. The boys will find the story both instructive and amusing. The full-page illustrations by Mr. Bush are life-like and characteristic.

Emerson, Ralph Waldo. Essays: second series. New rev. ed. [Riverside ed.]. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1883. 270 p. D. cl., $1.75.

See note under Emerson, "Weekly Record," P. W., Sep. 29, '83 [610].

Emerson, Ralph Waldo. Representative men: seven lectures. New rev. ed. [Riverside ed.]. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1883. 276 p. D. cl., $1.75.

See note under Emerson, "Weekly Record," P. W., Sep. 29, '83 [610].

*Federal (The) reporter. V. 16: Cases argued and determined in the Circuit and District Courts of the United States, June-July, 1883, ed. by Robert Desty. St. Paul, West Pub. Co., 1883. 32+999 p. O. shp., $5.

*Field, G. W. A treatise on the constitution and jurisdiction of the courts of the United States, on pleading, practice, and procedure therein, and on the powers and duties of commissioners of the circuit courts, with forms for said courts and commissioners. Phil., T. & J. W. Johnson & Co., 1883. 26+918 p. O. shp., $6.50.

Fields, Mrs. Jas. T. How to help the poor. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1883. 2+125 p. S. bds., 60 c.

An introductory note states that this little manual does not propose to deal with public questions. It only aims to give a few suggestions to visitors among the poor, and to lead all such visitors to attend the conferences which now are held weekly in almost every district of our large cities. Mrs. Fields speaks as one in authority, having been for years an earnest worker in Boston in the system of organized charities. The book is sent out in dainty style, with broad margins and a very pretty board cover.

- Flynn, P. J. Hydraulic tables, for the calculation of the discharge through sewers, pipes, and conduits, based on Kutter's formulas. N. Y., D. Van Nostrand, 1883. 144 p. T. (Van Nostrand's sci. ser., no. 67.) bds., 50 c.
- Foye, Ja. C. Chemical problems, with brief statements of the principles involved. N. Y., D. Van Nostrand, 1883. T. (Van Nostrand's sci. ser., no. 69.) bds., 50 c.
- Freeman, Abraham Clark. Index to the American decisions and the editor's notes thereto, with a table of the cases re-reported. V. 31 to 45, inclusive, 1837-1846. San Francisco, A. L. Bancroft & Co., 1883. 678 p. O. shp., gratis to subscribers.
- Ganot, Adolphe. Elementary treatise on physics, experimental and applied, for the use of colleges and schools; tr. and ed. from Ganot's Eléments de physique by E. Atkinson. 11th ed., rev. and enl. N. Y., W. Wood & Co., 1883. 1020 p., il. and 5 col. pl., O. cl., $5.
- Gonse, M. Louis. Eugène Fromentin, painter and writer; tr. by Mary Caroline Robbins. Bost., James R. Osgood & Co., 1883. 11+280 p. il. sq. O. cl., $3.
Fromentin (b. La Rochelle, France, 1820, d. 1876), belongs to the group of painters which includes Delacroix, Corot, Rousseau, Millet and Daubigny. He was chiefly distinguished as a painter of Algerine and Arabian scenes, notable for their picturesqueness and brilliancy of coloring. He was also an art critic of remarkable powers as illustrated in "The old masters of Belgium and Holland," and a writer of several books of travel and a romance, "Dominique." This is a sympathetic biography of the great artist, and an exposition of his methods, theories, and practice. Students and art amateurs will delight in this volume with its wealth of illustrations, mostly fac-similes, of Fromentin's celebrated works. His correspondence is largely quoted from, and some unpublished fragments of his writings are added. The work, taken altogether, is one of the most valuable art-works of the season, and is notably handsome in engraving and paper.

Dr. Harris is Professor of Systematic Theology in the theological department of Yale College. He says in his introductory chapter: "This work is not designed to present in detail the evidence of the existence of God; it is designed to examine the constitution of man as a personal being in order to ascertain his capacity to know and serve God, to answer the philosophical questions involved in the controversy with scepticism, agnosticism, and materialism, and to set forth, clear from misapprehension, and vindicate the principles on which the defence of theism must rest. It is not intended to be a treatise on psychology, ethics, or metaphysics."

- Lanza, Marchioness Clara. A righteous apostate. N. Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1883. 6+423 p. D. cl., $1.25.
The description of the righteous apostate, a Catholic priest who renounces his vows from love of a young girl, will recall the figure of the celebrated Father Loyson. The story involves a lawsuit for a large sum of money, which is claimed by two parties, and which is awarded to the false claimant. A successful deception is carried out through a remarkable and very improbable likeness, which the writer represents as existing between two youthful cousins and two elderly cousins. The story opens in Santa Fé, and with a most revolting crime committed by a young girl.

Malcolm, Robert Falconer, Thomas Wingfold, and Wilfred Cumbermede transposed into a new key. Donal Grant is tutor in the family of the opium-eating Earl of Morven. All the members of the family and all their dependents live the highly wrought life of "inner-consciousness" that Macdonald makes so real. There is much mystery and more action than in most of his weird and emotional stories. The scene is laid in Scotland, and the descriptions of scenery under different conditions of weather, are very beautiful. Macdonald's favorite religious speculations are made very telling in the simple language put into the mouth of Donal Grant.

This work has grown out of the author's connection with the revision committee. It embodies the substance (thoroughly revised) of his introduction to the American edition of Westcott and Hort's Greek Testament, and several additional chapters, beside important contributions from Bishop Lee, Prof. Abbot, Dr. Hall, and Prof. Warfield. The last chapter, "The revised version," contains a brief history and explanatory vindication of the joint work of the two revision companies. The subjects treated by the other chapters are, the language of the New Testament, the manuscripts of the New Testament, ancient versions, patristic quotations, textual criticism, a history of the printed text, and the authorized version. Appendices contain a list of printed editions of the Greek New Testament; fac-similes of standard editions of the Greek Testament; list of English and American revisers; list of American changes adopted by the English committee. The immortal Bodley family after their year in Holland—described in the previous volume of the series—make a visit to England in the autumn of 1881. Here they meet accidentally relatives and make the rounds with them of all the famous places, their conversations embracing many interesting details of persons and events in English history. The Bodley grandchildren are quite as entertaining as our old friends "Nathan" and "Phippy." The book is uniform with the other books of this well-known series. It is full of page-pictures, is printed on tinted paper, and enclosed in richly colored board covers.

Through mesmeric influence the mind of the narrator of this original story is thrown forward into the 90th century. The result is a detailed description of the probable condition of New York City in that coming time, with a little love story illustrating the advanced and purified state of domestic life. The writer finds N. Y. City a vast warehouse, space being too valuable to be occupied any longer by dwelling-houses. People find it no inconvenience, however, to live 50 miles from their places of business, on account of the great facilities of transportation with their electric motors. Science has developed many other new inventions, such as malleable glass and a new kind of steel which looks like silver, and so on, while all the elevators are run by an ingenious application of force derived from the rise and fall of the tide. Brooklyn is a university city filled with students, both sexes being educated together. Housekeeping is reduced to a minimum by a new system of cooperation, dress is simplified so that the female mind may occupy itself with the art and science, thieves are unknown, and lawyers among the traditions of the past.

Thompson, Maurice. Songs of fair weather. Bost., James R. Osgood & Co., 1883. 4+100 p. D. vellum, $1.50.

The Boston Globe says these poems "have a fresh and pleasing out-door fragrance, and show a keen delight in their author for the simpler aspects of nature. They sing of the woods, the field, the quiet haunts of fish, and of idyllic things generally in a graceful, quiet, and delicate manner." Printed on imported, hand-made paper, with initial letters and cunning little tail-pieces, and bound in white vellum. It is now acknowledged that Mr. Thompson is the author of two of the most interesting of the Round-robin novels, "A Tallahassee girl" and "His second campaign."

Verne, Jules. Godfrey Morgan: a California mystery; tr. by W. J. Gordon. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, [1883]. 8+272 p. il. D. cl., $2.

The very highest pitch of nonsense and extravagance is reached by Verne in this story. A California millionaire has a nephew who has a fever for travel and adventure. To cure him, the uncle buys an island in the Pacific for four millions of dollars, sends his nephew out on an imaginary cruise in one of his own merchant vessels, gets up a sham shipwreck which lands the hero, Godfrey Morgan, and his companion, "Tartlet," a dancing-master, on Spencer Island, the new possession. They lead a Crusoe-like existence here for a long time, all the auxiliaries in the way of the man Friday, the savages, wild beasts, etc., being supplied by the ingenious uncle, who lands a gang of his own servants on the island dressed up as wild men, and also a lot of stuffed animals, etc. The hero and his friend are represented as being deceived by all these transparent frauds, and to heartily welcome the rescuing vessel, in which they gladly return to San Francisco, quite satisfied with civilization once more.

Republished from the Chicago National Hotel Reporter, rev. and corr. Chic., Jessup Whitehead, National Hotel Reporter, 1882. 209 p. il. Q. (Oven and range cook-books, no. 1.) cl., $2.

Specially adapted for use in hotels, boarding-houses, confectionery cafés, restaurants, and eating-houses generally. Puff-paste, pies, cakes, cold meat dishes, and salads are exceptionally well represented. The author gives a system of measurement by which every recipe may be made available for private family use. The book has an excellent feature in having all its recipes graded in regard to cost, and the practical recipes are interspersed with many useful hints cut from leading papers.

Whitehead, Jessup. The hotel fish and oyster cook, showing all the best methods of cooking oysters and fish, for restaurant and hotel service, together with the appropriate sauces and vegetables; [also] How to cut meats and roast, boil, and broil, including short orders and omelets; [also] Cook's scrap-book. Chic., Jessup Whitehead, National Hotel Reporter, 1882. 108 p. Q. (Oven and range cook-books, no. 2.) cl., $1.50.

For the first time instructions for cutting meat as practised by hotel cooks are put in print, and the demand for such a book must be a very large one, when the accuracy of its statements and the simplicity of its method becomes sufficiently known. Fish and oysters are treated in every known and many original styles; the directions are clear and concise, and can be used in large restaurants and small families with unflinching success. An interesting part of the book is the "Cook's scrap-book," consisting of clippings on subjects interesting to cooks and diners, taken from periodicals and papers at home and abroad. A similar "scrap-book" is also added to the "Herald cooking school" noticed below.

Whitehead, Jessup. The Chicago Herald cooking school: a professional cook's book for household use, consisting of a series of menus for every-day meals and for private entertainments, with minute instructions for making every article named; [also] The hotel book of breads and cakes; [also] Cook's scrap-book. Chic., Jessup Whitehead, National Hotel Reporter, 1883. 192 p. Q. (Oven and range cook-books, no. 3.) cl., $1.50.

The "Oven and range cook-books" take their name from the copyrighted column of the Chicago Daily National Hotel Reporter, in which all of their recipes appeared in weekly instalments. This method of publishing made it necessary for the author to test and prove every statement before submitting it to such connoisseurs as the professional readers of a prominent hotel paper. It having been proved that the "Oven and range" recipes are thoroughly satisfactory, they have been reduced in quantity and made suitable for family use. Having met with much favor, they are now collected in book-form and brought within the means of every one. They possess the great merit of being absolutely definite on every point and full of instruction in the most minute particulars. The menus are very well selected and afford great variety.

BOSTON AS A PUBLISHING CENTRE. STATISTICS OF THE FALL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

From the Boston Advertiser, Sept. 29.

MR. LEYPOLDT, whose Publishers' Weekly is a weekly monument to his bibliographic zeal and industry, has just issued his fall announcement number, in which he gathers and classifies the titles of the books which the publishers throughout the country announce for publication the present season. In the United States, more even than in England, the tendency is to concentrate the issue of books about two seasons, Christmas and Easter, and the preparation for Christmas, which is the most prolific season, begins with the revival of trade in September and October. A survey, therefore, of the book market at this time gives one a tolerably fair opportunity for gauging the literary industry of the country.

Throwing out the English houses which have branches in this country, the announcements, little and great, of American publishing houses, fall short of a thousand titles. Nine hundred and sixty-six books, as we count, are promised for publication. Of these the juvenile class, has as usual, the largest number, 200; religion and philosophy come next, with 120. Books relating to art, including illustrated gift-books, follow with ninety-three, and medical science eighty-four; fiction has seventy-four; education and works on language have sixty-seven; poetry and the drama, sixty; literary history and collected works, fifty-one, and biography has fifty. After these larger lists come, in a declining grade, history, descriptive travel and adventure, arts and sciences, politics, sociology and economics, domestic and rural economy, law and government, birthday books and souvenirs, works relating to music, wit and humor, and sports—history having thirty six, and sports five. The department of fiction would be much larger, and probably outrank all others, if the publisher's of the chief libraries were in the habit of making announcements, which they are not, and the list, therefore, is made up chiefly of standard fiction and new American novels.

One thing is likely to catch the reader's eye, and that is the importance of the class under the head of art. The number of holiday books is not so considerable as of books either relating directly to the history of art, or by their illustrations really representing art. The number of books relating to music is small—ten only—and yet music divides with art the enthusiasm of young people; but music is not allied to literature as art is. The class of books of travel is also meagre, much more meagre than an English list would show. The English have an avidity for this literature, which is in part explained by the large family and commercial interests which the little island has with remote parts of the globe.

In the distribution of these books among publishing houses, New York, Boston and Philadelphia are the great centres. Chicago has two or three enterprising houses, and Cincinnati, Baltimore and one or two other points are represented. The list of books announced by New York publishers is 473; by Boston publishers, 338, and by Philadelphia publishers 121. Thirty-four books are announced by the publishers of all other cities. New York naturally leads, and there also are established the representatives of English houses; as a commercial centre it attracts to itself the largest share of the book business. Yet it may be doubted whether an analysis of the new American books to be issued this fall would give the precedence to New York. In point of numbers, Boston leads in art, descriptive travel and adventure, history, biography, juvenile books, law and government, literary history and collected works, and the new poetry comes almost wholly from Boston houses, though there is precious little of it. Chicago publishes nearly all the books about music, and it is in the issue of works allied with affairs, together with books which belong to what may be called regular stock that New York takes the lead. The only exceptions are fiction and religion and philosophy. The concentration there of the benevolent publication societies accounts for the religious class, and fiction comes nearer to regular stock than to original ventures. On the whole, a careful reading of Mr. Leyboldt's Weekly leaves on one the impression that in publishing enterprises which indicate forethought and taste Boston takes the lead, while it still continues to be the place to which the higher literature gravitates.

OBITUARY.

LOUIS BRÉTON.

LOUIS BRÉTON, senior partner in the house of Messrs. Hachette & Co., of Paris, died August 19, after a short illness. In 1839 M. Bréton entered the house founded by the late M. Louis Hachette, in 1841 he became a partner, and in 1844 he married the stepdaughter of M. Hachette. M. Bréton devoted himself specially to the educational department of the house, and it is chiefly to the intelligence and indefatigable energy which he displayed that the extraordinary success of the educational works published by Messrs. Hachette & Co. is to be attributed. This department of the business will, we understand, be continued under the superintendence of his son, M. Guillaume Bréton, who has recently distinguished himself in obtaining the diploma of Docteur-ès-lettres in the Ecole Normale supérieure. M. Bréton was President of the Cercle de la Librairie in 1865-1867, and under his presidency its functions were greatly extended, and it was owing greatly to his perseverance, that funds were subscribed for the erection of the very handsome building belonging to the Cercle, which is distinguishable for the classic beauty of its architecture even in the midst of the splendid mansions with which it is surrounded in the Boulevard St. Germain—and the first stone of which was laid by his brother-in-law, M. Georges Hachette, in 1878. In 1866 M. Bréton was created a Knight of the Legion of Honor. In 1871, he was elected a municipal councillor for the Quartier de la Monnaie. M. Bréton will long be remembered by those who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, for his genial kindness and courtesy; he was beloved by his confrères and his employés, and highly respected by all. He was in his 66th year.—London Publishers' Circular.

DANIEL SMITH.

DANIEL SMITH of Newburg, N. Y., died September 26, aged 73 years. Mr. Smith was born in Vernon, Tolland County, Connecticut, September, 1810, and received at that place a common school education. In 1838 he came to Newburg and became a teacher in the High School. In the year 1841 he went into the boot and shoe business with Mr. Victor M. Watkins as partner, remaining in that business two years. In 1843 he bought the book and stationery business of Joseph Lomas, and until July, 1882, was continuously in that trade. At that time he sold out to one of his sons, Nathan S. Smith, who now carries on the business. Mr. Smith leaves three children, two sons and a daughter, all of whom are married. Speaking of his business life in Newburg, the Newburg Daily Journal says: "It is stated that he was one of the pioneer merchants on Water Street, and when he retired over a year ago he left no one on the street who was in business there when he began. When Mr. Smith first opened his doors for trade, Newburg was then but a small village. There were few merchants on Water Street. He continued on in a steady, quiet way, growing with the growth of the place, until he found himself, in the evening of life, less disposed to the active pursuits than he once was, and left to enjoy his leisure which his attention to business brought him the means to take. Mr. Smith's store has for years been a great resort for people of a horticultural turn, and he himself had much taste for pursuits of that nature. He also has been for about 25 years the Depositary of the Newburg Bible Society."

CHARLES MEGARGE.

CHARLES MEGARGE, the well-known paper manufacturer and founder and head of the firm of Charles Megarge & Co., Philadelphia, died October 2, 1883, at his residence in Germantown. He was born in Philadelphia, September 30, 1804, and early in life entered the paper business in the store of Samuel Ekstein. In 1834 he and his brother began business for themselves as C. & W. H. Megarge. He was a director and from 1848 to 1866 was president of the Germantown Bank. Mr. Megarge left active business life several years ago, at the time of the failure of his firm.

CORRECTION OF EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE.

MESSRS. HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. wish us to say that it was their intention to give only the retail prices of their educational publications in the Educational Catalogue for 1883, just as these were given in the Catalogue for 1882. By a misunderstanding their introductory prices were inserted as net wholesale rates. This correction is made for the information of those dealers who handle school-books, and who find a discrepancy between the net wholesale rates quoted in the Educational Catalogue and the prices at which goods are billed to them by Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

PERSONAL NOTES.

MR. C. E. SWAYNE, of the publishing-house of Messrs. E. P. Dutton, of New York, and his partner, Mr. Charles A. Clapp, an old Bostonian, entertained, we learn from the Boston Globe, Mr. Robert Farran, of London, at Taft's on Sunday last. Mr. Farran is a member of the famous St. Paul Churchyard publishing-house of Griffith & Farran and direct descendants of Newbury & Harris, the first publishers in the world to issue juvenile books. Mr. J. G. Cupples was the only Boston representative of the guild to be found who could, with a clear conscience, accept the invitation to join the party. Bachelorhood is not without its alleviations.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

VICTOR HUGO has written, under the title of "L'Archipel de la Manche," a description of the life and manners of the inhabitants of the Channel Islands. It will be brought out serially in a periodical.

PROF. JAMES BALDWIN, of Huntington, Ind., who has written "The Story of Roland" for Charles Scribner's Sons, is the author of the admirable work on "English Literature," published by John E. Potter & Co., of Philadelphia.

MRS. J. R. GREEN, the widow of the historian, has herself been completely revising her husband's "Conquest of England," according to his last instructions. The book carries on the story of England up to the period of the Norman Conquest.

MADAME "HENRI GRÉVILLE," the well-known author of "Dosia," "Sonia," "Un Violon Russe," and so many other charming novels describing Russian and Norman life, is about to publish a work entitled "Économie Domestique." It will be written, says the London Athenæum, "in accordance with the programme issued by the authorities who direct the 'enseignement secondaire des jeunes filles' in France. But Madame Gréville will not confine herself to the material objects to which the programme calls special attention. She will combine with her practical advice to the future housewife much of that moral teaching which renders so valuable to young French girls—and, indeed, to all girls, whatever may be their nationality—her excellent little work entitled 'Instruction Morale et Civique des Jeunes Filles,' a work so truly and nobly moral and civic that it has been, as is well known, honored by the interdict of the Roman Index."

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

MACMILLAN'S English Illustrated Magazine, so long announced and looked for, is now ready to take its place among the American monthlies. The first number resembles them all in point of shape and illustrations, and comes nearest to the Century in external appearance. The contents are miscellaneous, including "Shy," an engraving from a picture in possession of a New York gentleman; "From the Old Courts to the New," by F. W. Maitland; Swinburne's verses, entitled "Les Casquettes"; "The Dormouse at Home"; Rossetti's Influence on Art, treated by J. Comyns Carr; a new short story of William Black's; a chapter by T. H. Huxley about "Oysters and the Oyster Question," and two chapters of a new story by Charlotte M. Yonge. It numbers sixty-four pages, retailed for sixpence in London and fifteen cents in New York. Special machines have been erected for the printing of this magazine and the facilities afforded by experience and wealth have been taken advantage of in their construction. We understand the advance demand for this new aspirant for favor has been so great that the publication had to be delayed until an edition of 150,000 copies was ready for distribution.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

HENRY HOLT & Co. publish this week, in the Leisure Moment series, Turgenieff's novel, "Fathers and Sons."

FORDS, HOWARD & HULBERT have published this week in The Continent Library "A Sylvan City," an illustrated book devoted to quaint and picturesque corners of Philadelphia—new and old.

JOHN MURPHY & Co., Baltimore, have just ready "The Law of Heredity, a study of the cause of variation, and the origin of living organisms," by W. K. Brooks, associate in Biology of Johns Hopkins University.

C. W. BARDEEN, of Syracuse, wishes us to announce that the recent fire (September 25), damaged only his printing-office, and that he has a sufficient stock of all publications on hand to fill orders until the presses run again.

S. E. CASSINO has now ready W. H. Hudson's work on "Sea-Sickness," described in our last issue; also an invaluable work for botanical students entitled "Botanical Micro-Chemistry," an introduction to the study of vegetable histology, by V. A. Boulsen, translated by Prof. Wm. Trelease.

CARLTON MCCARTHY & Co., Richmond, Va., will publish on the 15th inst., a volume of "Contributions to the History of the Richmond Howitzer Battalion, No. 1," by Henry Hudnall, W. Gordon McCabe, and E. C. Gordon, edited by Carlton McCarthy. The work will make an octavo of about 75 pages, and will retail at $1.

ROBERTS BROS. have in press two new volumes of poetry, one by Lewis Morris, author of "Epic of Hades," etc., entitled "Day and Night," and the other by Philip Bourke Marston, the blind English poet; also a new work by Richard Jefferies, author of "The Gamekeeper at Home," entitled "The Story of my Heart."

MRS. LIZZIE E. COTTON, West Gorham, Me., has published an interesting work on "A New System of Bee Management," written by herself. It is spoken of as a thoroughly practical treatise, having been the outcome of the author's own experience in bee management. It points out clearly and carefully everything that is needed to a full knowledge of the subject, and is of especial value to beginners in bee culture.

W. B. CLARKE & CARRUTH, Boston, have just published "Marplot Cupid," a bright and entertaining story of New England country life, by a lady well known in Boston society, who conceals her identity under the nom de plume of "Van Saxon." This firm announces that they have sold 4000 copies of "Mr. Jacobs," which (we believe it is now an open secret) was written by Mr. Arlo Bates, of the Boston Courier.

A. D. F. RANDOLPH & Co., have in preparation a unique volume, entitled "God's Thoughts: A Pansy Text-book for the Month," being a volume of Bible texts and poetical quotations illustrated with pansies beautifully printed in colors. Another gem for the holidays will be "The World's Christmas Hymns," a selection of Christmas hymns and verses, arranged by William H. and Susan H. Ward, illustrated by twelve classic pictures reproduced by the artotype process.

J. W. BOUTON has been fortunate enough to secure the 25 copies to be offered for sale in America of L. M. Solon's work on "The Art of the Old English Potter," forming an account of the progress of the craft in England from the earliest period to the middle of the eighteenth century. The work will be handsomely printed in imperial quarto on Dutch hand-made paper, with 50 plates etched by the author. The number of copies is limited to 250, and immediately after publication the plates will be destroyed.

T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS will shortly publish "Two Kisses," a bright and snappy love story, by Hawley Smart; "Erring, yet Noble," by Isaac G. Reed, Jr.; a new edition of "Hans Breitmann's Ballads;" a new edition in paper covers of "Peterson's Coin-Book," a manual of the coins of the world; and "Nadia's Vow," a Russian love romance, translated from the French of Henri Gréville. They have just issued a new edition of Francatelli's "Modern Cook-Book," revised from the 26th London edition.

THE NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, have just issued a new and beautiful line of photograph albums, bound in plush and leather, in which they have a large and attractive assortment of designs. They claim to have made a specialty of using only the best materials and of producing a durably bound and elegantly finished album. The cards are of a heavy white paper, with a neat gold border and are free from wrinkling or "cockling." They use an extra quality of plush with a long silky nap which gives the albums a rich appearance.

FUNK & WAGNALLS desire the trade to note that after October 15 the price of Young's Concordance will be doubled. They announce a new Christmas story by Edward Everett Hale, entitled "Our Christmas in a Palace," in which is described how a snow-bound party in the Rocky Mountains spent their Christmas in a palace car. The book may be looked for November 1. About the same time they expect to publish "A Popular Life of Martin Luther," based upon Köstlin's work as prepared by Prof. Rein, translated and edited by G. F. Behringer.

HENRY CAREY BAIRD & CO. have just published new editions of the following important works by Emory Edwards, the well-known mechanical engineer: "Modern American Marine Engines, Boilers, and Screw Propellers, their Design and Construction;" "The Practical Steam-Engineer's Guide in the Design and Construction of American Stationary Engines, etc.;" "A Catechism of the Marine Steam Engine;" and "Modern American Locomotive Engines." They have also just issued the eighth edition, revised and enlarged, of Joshua Rose's "Complete Practical Machinist," and his work on "Mechanical Drawing Self-taught."

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS announce a new book by Thomas Bassnett, entitled "The True Theory of the Sun," showing the relation between the stellar spots and corona and atmospheric storms and cyclones, with the necessary formulæ and tables for computing the maximum and minimum epochs of stellar activity, and the passage in time and place of the chief disturbers of the weather from the equator to the poles in both hemispheres. They have also under way "A Study of the History of Democracy," by Jonathan Norcross, of Atlanta, Ga., and a clever novelette of New England life, by Grace D. Litchfield, entitled "Only an Incident."

JOHN WILEY & SONS have now ready the first instalment of the second edition of what was formerly known as Vol. III. of "Weisbach's Mechanics of Engineering." In the hands of the editor, Prof. G. Hermann, the material of the first edition has been so thoroughly reclassified and revised, the methods of discussion so much improved and so much material added, as to practically constitute this second edition a new work, of three volumes, each as large as the original Vol. III. As revised by Prof. Hermann (and translated by Prof. J. F. Klein), the work divides itself into three parts, as follows: (1) The mechanics of machinery of transmission; (2) Mechanics of machinery for lifting and transporting solid and fluid materials; (3) Mechanics of machinery for changing the form and size of material.

ELLIOT STOCK, London, has in preparation a comprehensive critical "History of Philosophy," by Dr. Asa Mahan, in two volumes.

THE third volume of the "History of Civilization in Scotland," by Mr. John Mackintosh, of Aberdeen, recording the chief events in the country's history from 1603 to 1746, will be issued in October.

LONGMAN & CO. have in press a work by Mr. C. S. Devas, entitled "The Groundwork of Economics." Mr. Devas follows the historical method of the German economists, but takes Christian ethics for a foundation.

HAMILTON, ADAMS & CO., London, will publish at once a volume entitled "Curious Epitaphs," collected from the graveyards of Great Britain and Ireland, with biographical, genealogical, and historical notes, by Mr. William Andrews, of Hull. An important feature of the book will be "A Biography of Epitaphs" extending over 20 pages.

MR. REDWAY, we learn from the London Academy, will issue very shortly a verbatim reprint of the article on George Cruikshank written by Thackeray in 1849, and first published in the Westminster Review. There will be added a new portrait of Cruikshank etched by Mr. Pailthorpe, and a prefatory note by the editor, Mr. W. E. Church, on Thackeray as an artist and art critic.

EMILE DE LAVELEYE'S recent work on the "Elements of Political Economy" is being translated, says the Athenæum belge, into the following eight languages: English, German, Russian, Spanish, Polish, Servian, Bulgarian, and Greek. His short sketch of the life of Garfield, originally written for Swiss schools, has already been translated into Dutch, Swedish, and Portuguese.

It is proposed that the Paris Société Historique et Cercle Saint-Simon shall publish from time to time inedited documents of French history in a uniform manner. Each issue will constitute a feuillet mobile [loose sheet] capable of being inserted in its proper place in any historical series, or given to the printer without inconvenience. Thus, the sheet will be about 10x6, sized to allow of writing upon it, printed only on one side, and in two columns, with the necessary information as to the origin of the document. Each feuillet will fetch two centimes, and each volume (of 250) five francs—a calculated profit for the society of two francs.

BOOKS WANTED.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers are entitled to a free insertion of five lines, exclusive of address, in each issue. Repeated matter, however, must be charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Copy for this Department must reach us Thursday Morning to be in time for insertion in same week's issue.

Publishers' Trade-List Annual

For 1883 (Eleventh Year),

A Large 8vo, of over 2500 pages, is now ready.

The improvements in the Trade-List Annual last year have given such general satisfaction that there has been no change in the present issue (eleventh year) as to the essential features, which are:

1. The latest Catalogues of American Publishers, contributed by themselves and arranged alphabetically by the names of the publishers.
2. A complete reprint of the "Publishers' Weekly" full title Records of Books published (inclusive of all the descriptive notes) from July 8, 1882, to June 30, 1883. In order to facilitate reference, it will be accompanied by a full index, by which every book on record can be found, whether it is looked for under author, title, or subject.
3. The "Educational Catalogue" for 1883, which is used by the entire trade and educational interests as the most representative reference-list of School-books.

The above Lists, all bound in one volume, present in their combination so convenient and time-saving a working-tool as to make it indispensable to every one who has any interest in the purchase and sale of books.

The price is One Dollar and a half per copy net, bound in cloth, or can be sent post-paid for Two Dollars net, payable in advance.

Remittances should be made by check, money-order on New York, or registered letter, as we cannot be responsible for any losses. Receipt for remittance will be sent by return mail.

Unless special shipping directions are received, copies ready for delivery will be dispatched by express unpaid.

Parties so desiring can have their volumes supplied with the "SILVERA DU- PLEX INDEX," at the slight extra charge of 50 cents per copy. The Silvera Index is somewhat on the plan of Denison's, with the practical improvement, however, of having the alphabet printed on the concave surface (instead of on the margin of the page), which enables instantaneous reference, whether the book is open or shut.

PUBLISHED OCTOBER 5.

FORTUNE'S FOOL.

A Novel. By JULIAN HAWTHORNE. One volume, 12mo, $1.50.

The latest story from the pen of one of the foremost American novelists, distinguished for fine perception, delicate analysis, and masterly combination. A powerful novel, destined to be ranked as a classic.

THE RECOLLECTIONS OF A DRUMMER-BOY.

By Rev. HARRY M. KIEFFER, late of the 150th Regiment Penn. Volunteers.
Illustrated. 1 volume, 16mo, $1.25.

This work brings most vividly and picturesquely before the younger generation the scenes and adventures of the Rebellion, told as only an eye-witness could tell them. It is a thrilling story of a soldier's life, from enlistment to muster-out, with all the stirring changes of camp and field, and the exciting incidents of campaigning on the "sacred soil."

A YEAR OF SUNSHINE.

By KATE SANBORN. Comprising choice and cheering selections for every day in the year. 1 vol., 16mo, beautifully bound, $1.

Five hundred selections on making the best of things. With margins for amateur decoration, and spaces beneath for memoranda, birthdays, etc., and poems for special days at the close. The pages are red-lined.

FOR SALE IN CHICAGO BY JANSEN, McCLURG & CO.

A Most Reliable and Valuable Work of Reference

A DICTIONARY OF QUOTATIONS FROM THE POETS.

Based upon Bohn's edition, with numerous additions from American authors. Carefully revised and corrected, with index of authors and chronological data, and a concordance index to every passage in the volume. Introductory preface by R. H. STODDARD. Crown 8vo, 768 pages, $2.50; Interleaved Edition, $3.50.

Especial care has been taken to insure accuracy of text, the copy having been compared with author's text before being put in type, and again verified by comparing the proof-sheets with the original text, so that each quotation has been verified not only by the compiler, but also by an expert employed for this purpose.

"The system of indexing by numbering the passages, and referring to them by numbers in the Index of Authors and General Index is a very thorough piece of work."—Good Literature.

"The highest ambition of the compiler in this kind of work should be accuracy, good judgment in the selection of quotations, and their arrangement. On all these points the compilation stands strong, and cannot fail to prove highly useful."—Independent.

"Not only a very comprehensive, but is also admirably indexed and arranged."—Christian Union.

"Those who have need of poetical quotations will find nothing more completely adapted to their desires than this book. We know of none as good—Bohn's edition has no index."—Christian Intelligencer.

"The more competent the critic who examines it the heartier will be his favorable verdict."—Congregationalist.

"The commendation of R. H. Stoddard, which is embodied as a preface, is a sufficient testimonial to its merits."—Boston Pilot.

"For variety, fulness of illustration of each topic, scope, and value of the quotations, the work is superior to any other with which I am acquainted. It should find a place in every library."—CYRUS NORTHROP, Professor of Rhetoric and English Literature in Yale College.

"It has been compiled with excellent judgment and evidently with great care, and is printed and indexed in a way to satisfy the most exacting. It is a useful and attractive book."—Prof. EDWARD H. GRIFFIN, Williams College, Mass.

"It seems to be unusually full and accurate. I tested it on various critical passages and found it always correct."—Prof. WM. HAND BROWNE, Johns Hopkins University.

"A work which will add materially to our stock of useful works of reference."—WM. E. FOSTER, Librarian of Prov. Public Library.

"A vast improvement upon Bohn's original compendium."—E. C. STEDMAN.

"Highly creditable to the compiler's taste, industry, and accuracy."—JOHN G. WHITTIER.

"Contains a vast amount of quotable verse, and appears to be faithfully indexed."—OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

"An exceptionally thorough and conscientious work, showing a catholicity of taste that adds greatly to its value. A careful search through the most familiar passages has revealed no errors, a fact that is extremely creditable."—THOS. S. COLLIER.

Sparkling New Books for Young People.

THE BEAR-WORSHIPPERS

OF YEZO AND THE ISLAND OF KARAFUTO; OR, THE ADVENTURES OF THE JEWETT FAMILY AND THEIR FRIEND OTO NAMBO. By EDWARD GREY. With 180 illustrations by Rinzo and by Ichiske Hamada, and cover designed and drawn by the author. Bound in boards, illuminated in gold and colors, $1.75; cloth, black and gold, $2.50.

* * * The present volume, the last of the series, is devoted to the manners and customs of the bear-worshippers of Yezo, which was formerly a portion of the Empire of Japan, but now belongs to the Russian Empire. Mr. Grey spent nearly a year in cruising in the northern waters, and became well acquainted with the people of Karafuto and Yezo. The information which he gives in this book of the quaint people is almost unknown to Americans. The illustrations of the volume are, with few exceptions, by Japanese artists, and are exceedingly graphic and correct.

UNIFORM IN STYLE AND PRICE WITH

YOUNG AMERICANS IN JAPAN;

OR, THE ADVENTURES OF THE JEWETT FAMILY AND THEIR FRIEND OTO NAMBO. By EDWARD GREY. With 170 full-page and letterpress illustrations.

AND WITH

THE WONDERFUL CITY OF TOKIO;

OR, THE FURTHER ADVENTURES OF THE JEWETT FAMILY AND THEIR FRIEND OTO NAMBO. By EDWARD GREY. With 169 illustrations.

* * * The above three volumes constitute the most accurate and complete narrative of scenes, incidents, manners, customs—in fact, of the daily life—of the people in the "Land of the Rising Sun" ever offered for the instruction and amusement of young readers.

OUR BOYS IN CHINA:

The thrilling story of two young Americans, Scott and Paul Clayton, who were wrecked in the Chinese Sea on their return from India, with their strange adventures in China. By HARRY W. FRENCH. With 150 illustrations. Bound in emblematical covers of Chinese design, $1.75; cloth, black and gold, $2.50.

* * * Those of our young readers who, last year, followed the strange adventures of the Claytons in their wanderings through the great Indian Empire, will be delighted with the present volume, which abounds in information relative to the people of China, their peculiar customs and habits, games and sports, ways of doing business, temples, etc. The illustrations are "taking," as well as apropos to the narrative.

UNIFORM IN STYLE AND PRICE WITH

OUR BOYS IN INDIA:

The wanderings of two young Americans in Hindostan, with their exciting adventures on the sacred rivers and wild mountains. By HARRY W. FRENCH. With 145 illustrations.

UNIFORM WITH THE ABOVE.

DRIFTING ROUND THE WORLD;

A BOY'S ADVENTURES BY SEA AND LAND. By Capt. CHARLES W. HALL, author of "Adrift in the Ice-Fields," etc. Numerous full-page and letterpress illustrations. Handsome board covers, $1.75; cloth, gilt, $2.50.

Some New Stories for our Young Folks.

OLIVER OPTIC'S NEW BOOK,

SNUG HARBOR; OR, THE CHAMPLAIN MECHANICS.

By OLIVER OPTIC. Illustrated, $1.25.

BEING THE SECOND VOLUME OF

THE BOATBUILDERS' SERIES,

AND UNIFORM WITH

ALL ADRIFT; OR, THE GOLD WING CLUB.

By OLIVER OPTIC. Illustrated, $1.25.

* * * In this new series of fascinating books the "most popular writer for young folks in the world" aims to present not only a series of lively stories, but to make them of practical value by the introduction of workshop mechanics, so that his readers will be taught how to build a boat, a boat-house, to rig and sail a boat, etc. The first volume of the series has found great favor among young folks, and, as the new volume is fully as breezy, it will certainly be in wide demand.

By MISS A. M. DOUGLAS.

SANTA CLAUS LAND.

By AMANDA M. DOUGLAS, author of "Kathie Stories." Illustrated, $1.

* * * A beautiful story, that will amply satisfy the children's cry for Christmas reading.

J. T. TROWBRIDGE'S NEW BOOKS.

PHIL AND HIS FRIENDS.

By J. T. TROWBRIDGE. Illustrated, $1.25.

THE TINKHAM BROTHERS' TIDE-MILL.

By J. T. TROWBRIDGE. Illustrated, $1.25.

* * * As a story-teller, Mr. Trowbridge ranks among the foremost American writers for the young. The readers of St. Nicholas know how easy it is for him to please, how charming are his heroes and heroines, and how "taking" are his incidents; and parents are aware how strong is his conviction that a story is wholesome only when it is on the side of morality. There is not a dull page in the volumes now announced; but no sentiments are expressed that will not tend to purify youth.

SOPHIE MAY'S NEW BOOK,

FLAXIE'S KITTYLEEN.

By SOPHIE MAY. Illustrated, 75 cents.

* * * "Kittyleen" is the latest volume in the famous "Flaxie Frizzle" series. She was a snip of a girl, three years old, whose long name was Katherine Garland. She who tells all about her is Sophie May, who is never so happy as when she sits down to write a story for little girls.
